Dear Miss Wolff:

Thanks very much for your note of 5 February.

I was, of course, sorry to hear that conditions make it impossible for WCSR to join the System during the current academic year, but I fully understand and appreciate the unfortunate financial corner in which the station finds itself at this time. I sincerely hope that the situation will show improvement in the near future.

With a view toward maximum effectiveness and minimum expenditure, I hope you will proceed quite cautiously with plans for alteration of the transmission system, perhaps if possible deferring major action until such time as the station may avail itself of IBS advice in the matter. Meanwhile, I shall be happy to render informal assistance, if desired, on interim phases of this problem.

Please convey my thanks and appreciation to those members of the WCSR staff whose gracious hospitality made my visit of 9 January so pleasant.

With best regards,

James R. Wylie
